Scholarship Reality Check

Searching and applying for scholarships is too much work!

REALITY:

- The effort you put into scholarships is proportional to the likelihood of receiving a scholarship.
- After you have completed a few applications, the amount of work is reduced, as most applications will have similar questions and previously written essays can often be easily adapted to other scholarship opportunities.
- The amount of work is minimal when compared to the potential reward.

You would have to work full-time for 2 ½ week, earning $10/ hour to earn $1,000.

You might spend 2-3 hours on a scholarship application which awards $1,000.

Scholarship Tips and Tricks

- Pay attention to deadlines
- Read the application requirements
- Apply for small $ scholarships
- Transcripts
 - See counselor or Mrs. Haag
 - Does it need to be official?
- Letter of recommendation
 - Give plenty of notice!
 - Thank you notes!!
- Proofread!
